Our Philosophy

Five years on from its launch, Top Yacht Design returns to the scene with a new and even more captivating look, a larger format and intriguing new content. This major milestone is also a testament to the robustness of a successful editorial project that has been very efficiently tracking and reporting the enormous transformation taking place in the nautical sector in recent years. This epoch-making transition has also underscored the need to research and bring to the market a formula with a focus on original content that also is a clear departure from the standard fare. With this in mind, Top Yacht Design is now broadening its horizons and debuting in the watch world which has long drawn on the sea as a fertile source of inspiration. Watches by Design refl ects the philosophy of the main magazine and enriches the array of choice it offers its readership. But it does not stop there. Top Yacht Design also whips off the wraps of the leading sailing competitions which often double as research laboratories for trialling cutting-edge technical solutions. Starting, of course, with the America's Cup, an event to which the magazine has dedicated an entire section that also includes a series of in-depth pieces that shed a new light on the competition. That same meti-culous research is evident in the solutions and proposals from the worlds of furnishing and design which are increasingly proving the lifeblood of an unprecedentedly creative cross-contamination process. Hence our need to publish not simply a magazine but, more importantly still, as a full editorial package that tackles the subject of design in all its many guises, starting with yachts. Significantly, it does so both in print and through an online platform. Infact, Top Yacht Design puts the very term design under the microscope, exploring it and familiarising its readers with it in a first-hand way, revealing its myriad meanings and applications as well as its interactions with other sectors. This authoritative new editorial system is underpinned by Matteo Zaccagnino's 30-plus years of experience in the world of journalism. He is fl anked in his mission by the most prestigious authors in the sector to ensure that the needs of an increasingly broad-ranging, discerning and inspiration-hungry audience are met.

Outdoor

The crossover process of recent years has revolutionised the style of yacht interiors and is now doing the same for their deck and al fresco areas. This special will not merely showcase all of the latest trends in outdoor furnishings but also investigate the reasons behind the rapid expansion this segment is experiencing.

I grandi saloni del main deck oggi vengono concepiti e arredati in modo da creare un'unica grande superficie senza soluzioni di continuità. Una tendenza questa alla quale non è immune nessun ambiente di bordo.

I ponti superiori sono concepiti per ospitare spazi multifunzione che a seconda dei momenti della giornata sono allestiti per dare vita a pranzi o cene all'aperto.

Perfino la cabina armatoriale viene pensata per offrire all'sopite la possibilità di beneficiare di un accesso a un'area all'aperto dedicata, un ambiente da godere nella privacy più completa e in totale intimità.
